TEXT MESSAGING

Customers can sign up to receive text messages periodically throughout the day. Market updates are sent four times a day to update customers on the current markets. Messages are also sent when local terminals or elevators have to close unexpectedly. Text messaging is free to any customer (texts are subject to charges from your cell phone provider).

Check below for any text messages you would like to receive:

- Futures Market Updates (sent 4 times a day)
- Market Alerts (periodic updates that include USDA report results and significant market moves)
- Hauling Notices (location closes, etc)

E-MAIL

Western Grain Marketing sends out an e-mail each evening to any customer who signs up for the service. This e-mail includes a summary of the relevant market news and the day's closing bids. E-mail commentaries are a free service to all WGM customers.

Check below if you would like to receive market emails:

- Daily Market E-mails

SOCIAL MEDIA

Producers and other members of the agriculture community can post their ideas and questions. WGM also posts news articles and other relevant items such as harvest and crop pictures, marketing updates and links to other interesting Facebook pages. Check often for upcoming events!
