- Price Later (DP) may be available upon request and subject to current market conditions at offering.
- Stored grain not priced by September 15, 2024 will be moved to warehouse receipt or price later, and any remaining storage and drying charges, discounts, and any other miscellaneous charges to date will be invoiced and billed. New minimum storage charges will apply.
- Our elevators observe an end-of-day cut-off time. Grain delivered for spot pricing will be priced at that day's closing price.
- Checks will not be issued until requested by the producer or landlord.
- Contracts will be filled with the first deliveries unless other instructions are given prior to delivery.
- Grain delivered to elevators, terminals, and processors (direct ship) is subject to various moisture discounts and spot policies. The moisture discount will be determined by the discount schedule in effect at the time and location of delivery. The default disposition for direct ship grain will be spot if there are no contracts in place.
